WILLIMANTIC

What is Going On Tonight
 The meeting of the citizens called for tomorrow (Tuesday) evening, the 15th, to formulate plans for the celebration of Old School Week in Willimantic next June, is of wide interest and doubtless there will be a full attendance. Invitation to the meeting is general, to all citizens of Willimantic and vicinity, and citizens of the surrounding communities, especially the former pupils of the local schools.

OLD SCHOOL WEEK PLANNED.
 To be Considered at General Meeting of Citizens to be Held Tuesday.

The meeting of citizens called for tomorrow (Tuesday) evening, the 15th, to formulate plans for the celebration of Old School Week in Willimantic next June, is of wide interest and doubtless there will be a full attendance. Invitation to the meeting is general, to all citizens of Willimantic and vicinity, and citizens of the surrounding communities, especially the former pupils of the local schools.

The matter of organizing a citizens' association to take charge of the local observance of Old School Week will be taken up. It is certain that a large number of former pupils are coming back to Willimantic next June, for Allen B. Lincoln of New Haven, who proposed the celebration and has been conducting a preliminary canvass among former pupils and teachers now residing outside of Willimantic, reports that there is much enthusiasm for the project and hundreds are already planning to attend Mr. Lincoln will be present at the meeting Tuesday evening, and will explain his proposition and make suggestions for the manner and method of celebration.

How far the local public shall enter into the celebration is a matter for the citizens to determine. It is believed that it can be made of large and permanent value and an inspiration to this entire community if the full significance of it be realized. It will mean not only a large gathering of former pupils and teachers now scattered widely for region and revival of old-time friendships, as in the spirit of Old Home Week, but it should mean also the fullest consideration of schools and their efficiency—past, present and future. Willimantic has reason to be proud of its schools, and the recognition of this fact by the community along educational lines is worthy of recognition by a fitting celebration. Although the celebration of Old School Week offers a splendid opportunity.

It is emphasized that the celebration need not be elaborate or expensive, but genuine in its spirit of reunion and friendship and serious in its thought of schools.

A large meeting tomorrow (Tuesday) evening is anticipated, a cordial invitation having been extended to citizens generally to attend.

CHARITY BOARD POSSIBLE.

A Timely Suggestion

We all make the same mistake about Christmas shopping—we wait until too late to do it. We form pleasant plans during the year to buy nice things for our kinsfolk and friends, then we put it off until the Christmas rush is on with the shops crowded, the clerks tired, the assortment of goods depleted. Often we have to give up buying presents altogether or make an unsatisfactory selection.

WHY NOT ATTEND TO YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING JUST NOW?

You could not find a better time or one half so good. This store is ready for you, well stocked with all kinds of Holiday goods, and all conditions ideal for satisfactory buying. Start now, early in the week and early in the day.

Everybody needs it, of course.

Everybody is going to need it more in the future, too, when the earning capacity is less than during youth or middle-age.

ing there will be a meeting at the call of the committee chosen last week consisting of W. C. Norris, N. E. Lincoln and F. R. Jackson. The plan is to bring about a conference of the heads for some competent representatives of all those engaged or interested in charitable work in Windham, with a view to some organization in a central committee, by at least some determination to carry on co-operative work, if the need is felt, which will save the duplication of efforts of time or aid.

The following letter has been sent by the committee to the heads of some twenty-seven organizations, including the ministers and some few others, with the request that they be represented at the meeting:
 Willimantic, Conn., Dec. 4, 1914.
 At an open meeting held at the Board of Trade and Business Men's Association rooms, December 2, 1914, for the purpose of discussing the need and advisability of organized relief for the poor of this community, the following resolutions were adopted:
 "Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed from the various organizations in the community, one member from each organization, including the town officials, to coordinate the charitable efforts being made in Willimantic at the present time."
 Will you kindly represent your organization at a meeting for this purpose held in the Board of Trade rooms, meeting Tuesday evening, and will explain his proposition and make suggestions for the manner and method of celebration.

O. K'D HIS REPORT CARDS.

But Willy Richard Grant Was Caught and is Now in Reform School.

Richard Grant, the 14 year old boy arrested last April following the theft of various small sums from the local M. C. A., and charged with the subject of "Bad Boy of the World," was put on probation last spring at the time of the arrest, following his commitment to the state reform school and a suspension of the sentence, and for a time did well. At that time he was going to the Windham Street school. This fall he told the probation officer that he was attending the Natchaug Street school, and each Saturday, as required, produced his report, showing that he was doing well in his studies and deportment. One day, however, he misbehaved a little too much at the Windham Street school, which he was still actually attending, and Principal Shattuck so informed Mr. Lyman. This led to investigation, and it was discovered that the boy had written his own reports from the Natchaug Street school, and turned them in to the probation officer. He will have a chance now to try his games on the officers of the reform school, to which institution he was taken Saturday, by order of the police court.

Silk Throwing Plant to Start Up.

Another mill will resume operations today. To fill an order which has been received, the silk throwing plant of A. G. Turner on Valley street, will resume work with a few hands. Mr. Turner does not know just how long the mill will be in operation at this time. Normally about one hundred are affected by the closing of the mill.

To Adopt Nephew.

Mr. and Mrs. August Roy have entered into an agreement with Stanislaus Bourdon, whereby they are to legally adopt his son, a nephew of the couple. The baby's mother is dead. There will be a hearing on this matter in the probate court Saturday.

Administrator of Huber Clark's Estate.

Attorney Charles A. Capen has been appointed administrator of the estate of the late Huber Clark, by order of Judge James A. Shea. Mr. Capen was the choice of those interested in the settlement of the estate. Frank R. Fenton and Frank Larabee were appointed appraisers.

Eleven Dollars Stolen From Lunch Cart.

The police authorities have been informed that some one broke into the lunch cart at the corner of Walnut and Main streets, run by Homer Leonard, and got away with about eleven dollars in cash. The window at the end of the cart was removed and entrance effected by that means. When the job was completed the window was replaced. The proprietor has his suspicions as to the parties involved, who from all indications were familiar with the layout of the locality.

Interests of the Churches.

At the Methodist church Sunday, Rev. W. P. Buck of Stafford Springs occupied the pulpit in exchange with Mrs. S. C. Eadie of Boston, a meeting there was an illustrated travel talk on "Korea, the Hermit Nation." Mrs. S. C. Eadie, who is celebrated as a medium, was heard at both morning and evening services of the Spiritualist society, C. Howard Miller sang solos at each service, accompanied by Miss Mabel Taft.

The series of illustrated talks on Mission Work was held in the lecture hall of the Y. C. A. at four o'clock Sunday afternoon. The subject was "Bad Boy of the World." There was special music at both services at the Congregational church Sunday, and were held at five o'clock.

The sale given by the Willing Workers and the Guild of St. Paul's P. E. church in the parish house Saturday afternoon was a success. Many beautiful fancy articles were disposed of, and a good sum was realized.

LIBERTY HILL FIRE.

House, Barn, Seven Cows and a Horse Burned at Abraham Miller's Farm.

Fire Saturday night destroyed the house and barns on the property of Abraham Miller, near Liberty Hill in Lebanon, burning up seven cows and one of two horses. The other horse was saved. The blaze started in the cow-barn, after the family had retired, and was discovered about ten o'clock. Practically everything was lost. The property was insured in the local firm of J. B. Baldwin for about three thousand dollars. The glow was plainly seen and attracted considerable attention in Willimantic.

Gratuitously, a South Killingly resident advises the town school committee that its contacts with persons who transport pupils should contain a clause providing that no money be paid when there are no children to be carried.

Unless conditions change, it may soon be possible to announce with reasonable certainty of his making good an appearance that Peeping Tom will be in the vicinity of the railroad station evening from 8 to 9:30, most purposes of making one of his special exhibits. Those who think they can catch him are at liberty to try. He is expected when it comes to running.

Two Men Steal Cap From Office of Dean Pin Factory—Attempt to Rob Simon Kaminsky.

Captain John Murray and other members of the Putnam police force closed their week's work with a hunt for a pair of desperadoes that paid this city a visitation Friday night, broke into one place and pulled off a holdup at another.

The break was made at the office of the Dean Pin factory, and the hold-up in the barn of Simon Kaminsky with Mr. Kaminsky as their subject.

Neither the break nor the hold-up netted the gangsters anything worth mentioning, a cap taken from the pin factory office being the only thing noted as missing.

It was after 9 o'clock Friday night when Captain Murray and Officer Julius Cordier received first information that trouble had developed. A call by telephone from a resident near the pin factory brought the information that he had seen a light flashing in the office of the concern, and upon going there with his men, they investigated.

They saw two men going away from the building. Soon after a message came from Mr. Kaminsky saying that he had been set upon in his barn by two men who attempted to rob him. Certain circumstances indicated that the holdup men were the same as those who visited the pin factory.

HIGH GRADE TOBACCO

Raised by W. A. Reist of Pennsylvania Near Elmville.

While the past season's crop has not been marketed yet, tobacco growing experiments as conducted on Grammer farm, near Elmville, are pronounced a success. Several acres of high grade tobacco were planted in the early summer, the small plants brought there from Pennsylvania and were matured and cured in a manner that assures the bringing of a high price for the leaf. W. A. Reist, a Pennsylvania man, owns the farm and the tobacco culture has been under the supervision of an expert from that state. The work the farm has demonstrated without question that a high grade of tobacco can be successfully and profitably grown on land that second grade tobacco is said to surpass some of the famous Connecticut River grades.

Two Men Steal Cap From Office of Dean Pin Factory—Attempt to Rob Simon Kaminsky.

stairs in the barn after throwing down some grain to his horse and had reached the barn floor when two figures darted out from the shadows and set upon him. A hard struggle ensued in which Kaminsky's face was considerably scratched. In the meantime, however, he was putting up a lively fight and an awful howl for help, which did not happen to materialize until after the assailants had decided that it would be dangerous from his struggle, but in possession of all his worldly goods.

As soon as Captain Murray learned of the affair, about 10 o'clock, he set out for the Rhodeville section of the city, on a hunt for the men. A number of men volunteered to assist in the hunt, but one squad accompanied the captain while another went along under the direction of Officer Julius Cordier. The men searched all the upper section of the city and the entire railroad yard, racking the place as with a comb of sleuths. Railroad men helped in the search, but the hunted parties were not found. The only trace of them is that represented by the cap mentioned.

Saturday Plainfield officers came to Putnam looking for two men who made breaks in the town on Friday night. Goods taken there included sweaters, shoes, combs and various other articles. The local officers believe that the Plainfield break is the work of the same gang that operated here and that the men quickly got out of Putnam on one of the night freights from the local yards.

The Gift that Pleases Every Man is a glass humidor of famous Tuxedo tobacco. Last Christmas thousands of men received this appropriate, delightful, sensible gift—this year the number will be greatly increased. Give him a humidor of Tuxedo. It will last him for weeks—in his office or by his fireside—and each cool, mellow, fragrant whiff will recall you to him in pleased and thankful rever.

Tuxedo can be smoked all day long without the slightest irritation to the smoker's throat, as is proved by the endorsement of Tuxedo by men like Caruso, William Faversham, Harry Lauder, and thousands of famous Americans in professional, public and business life.

Tuxedo, made from highest grade Burley tobacco, has the advantage—over other tobaccos—of the exclusive original "Tuxedo Process," which absolutely prevents "tongue-bite." The Humidor Jar keeps it fresh and moist to the last pipeful.
